

Many states have phone privacy acts that are stronger than the one the FCC is proposing. Implementing a new national standard will weaken some existing standards.

Please don't implement the new standard on a forced national basis. Rather a standard should be set as the MINIMUM level with the freedom for states to make them stronger.